Question 10

Hello, this is Nancy Polanski. I'm calling from the airport. One of your taxis dropped me off at the international departure terminal 20 minutes ago. I think my passport got left behind in the taxi. I noticed it was missing when I checked in with the airline. I can't find it in my purse or my carry-on bag. I've retraced my route since arriving, and I cannot locate it. My passport must still be in the taxi. I don't remember the driver's name. Part of his licence number is 3562. Can you please find the driver and ask him to look for it? I can't miss my flight. It's leaving in an hour. I'll pay for it to be delivered to me. Please call me as soon as possible. My number is 555-8890. Thank-you.

A radio commercial

You don't need to spend all of your hard earned money on bakery bread. Making your own bread at home is easy with the new Double Duty Dough Mixer by Berring. Unlike other bread machines that can be difficult to clean and store, the Double Duty Dough Mixer breaks down into five parts that can go directly into your dishwasher. This stainless steel appliance will mix dough for you in a fraction of the time it takes to knead dough by hand. The automated delay feature at the beginning of the mix cycle gives your ingredients time to reach room temperature, ensuring that your breads will rise as high as bakery bread. We guarantee that the accompanying Berring Best Breads recipe book will be a family favorite.

Advertising

What is advertising? Is it telling the truth or is it making things look better than they really are? Or is it lying? Companies pay a lot of money for adverts. Some of the ads you see in glossy magazines look like art. The commercials on TV look like mini movies. Do they really change our behavior? Do adverts make you buy things? I think some advertising is a form of lying. Is BMW really "The ultimate driving machine" like they say in their ads? British Airways used to say they were "The world's favorite airline," but had to stop saying it because it wasn't true. Personally, I get tired of watching ads on television. They always interrupt a good program. I like ads in magazines. They're usually quite interesting.

Question 10

Hello, this is Dale Evans. I recently purchased one of your Techbrite kits for my little son, the police station model? Unfortunately the kit didn't come with an instructions manual for putting the kit together. Now I've bought a few Techbrite kits for him before and they've always had a full color building manual inside. I've already tried to put the kit together myself just going by the photographs on the kit box. But it's almost impossible to get it fully right. Anyway, my son likes to put the models together himself following along to the step by step guide in the manual. This was his main birthday present this year so he's pretty upset for not putting his police station model together – sort of ruined the surprise for him, really. I hope you'll be able to do something about this as quickly as possible. Please call me back. This is Dale Evans 324-6745.

9:00–9:15 A.M.	Increasing Our Online Presence	Dave

Hi, this is Roy, the manager of Peterson Car Rental. I know you're working on the schedule for the next employee meeting, so I was hoping I could ask you a few questions about it.

Question

What is the date of the meeting, and what time is it scheduled to start?

Question

I'd like Dave to talk about increasing our online presence. Is there any way we can fit that in at this meeting?

Question

Can you give me all the details you have about the presentation on new benefits for customers?

Question 10: Propose a solution

Directions: In this part of the test, you will be presented with a problem and asked to propose a solution. You will have 45 seconds to prepare. Then you will have 60 seconds to speak. In your response, be sure to show that you recognize the problem, and propose a way of dealing with the problem

In your response, be sure to

- show that you recognize the problem, and
- propose a way of dealing with the problem.

Respond as if you are the manager of the dry cleaner.

Question

Hi, this is Jonathan, the owner of Better Dry Cleaning. Since you're the manager, I'd like your advice on serving our customers more efficiently. As you know, a large office building was just built nearby, so we have a lot of new customers. Most of them come in to pick up or drop off their clothing before or after work. We only have two employees working the front desk during those times, so people have to wait in long lines. I don't want to lose customers because people are waiting too long... but hiring more staff won't help, because the rush of people is only in the early morning and late afternoon. Call me back with ideas about how we can more efficiently manage the rush of customers in our store. Again, it's Jonathan.

Question 11: Express an opinion

Directions: In this part of the test, you will give your opinion about a specific topic. Be sure to say as much as you can in the time allowed. You will have 30 seconds to prepare. Then you will have 60 seconds to speak.

Question

Do you agree or disagree with the following statement? The most famous musicians are the most talented. Give reasons or examples to support your opinion.
